RONALD M. MOEN RECEIVES ASSOCIATION FORUM'S SUPERSTAR AWARD

Glenview, IL—Association Management Center (AMC) recently announced that Ronald M. Moen is the 2007 recipient of the Association Forum of Chicagoland's Superstar Award. A Forum Superstar is someone in a managerial position who consistently supports and encourages employees. This person contributes to a positive and innovative workplace with his or her management style.

Moen is responsible for the IT and Web departments at AMC and is the director of CoreSource, a business unit of AMC focused on outsourced services. Moen's colleagues and staff nominated him for the award. Marilyn Jansen, senior project manager says, "Ron encourages, gives useful suggestions, leaves me alone to figure out solutions, has confidence in my abilities when I may not, celebrates my successes and my failures, and is always available to brainstorm new ideas and solutions."

Debbie Gold, senior project manager, says, "Ron doesn't just give you a 'pat on the back'—he'd throw a parade for you if he could. He genuinely embraces your successes and even though you're working collaboratively and for the good of the organization, he makes you feel like you single-handedly did something spectacular. And, he does it for everyone who works for or with him. Jansen and Gold both agree that Moen is simply The Best Boss of 2007!

Scott Engle, AMC Principal and Moen's supervisor says, "This is a much-deserved honor. Ron constantly strives to improve his management skills, and it shows in the results his teams deliver."

Gary LeBranche, CAE, Association Forum President and CEO, presented Moen with the award in a ceremony on Friday, June 8, at AMC.

Association Management Center has been the respected leader in association management for over 30 years. Owned and managed by the Engle family since its inception, AMC (www.connect2amc.com) is a trusted partner to 17 leading national and international organizations and has a staff of more than 160 association professionals.
